Neighbourhood Planning:

What a Neighbourhood Plan CAN do:

A Neighbourhood Plan is a LAND-USE Plan. It can only deal with matters related to the DEVELOPMENT and USE of land. So, it can:

- Allocate sites for housing development
- Have policies about what type of housing we should have
- Define settlement boundaries to help steer development to the right locations
- Have policies about design in new development
- Protect Local Green Spaces that are of special value to people
- Have policies to protect Community Facilities from Change of Use (i.e. pubs)
- Protect the historic and natural environment from inappropriate development

What a Neighbourhood Plan CAN'T do:

- Stop development from happening altogether
- Deal with non-Planning matters (dog fouling, litter, anti-social behaviour, etc.)
- Deal with highways issues such as on-street parking
- Deal with public transport

I would suggest having some large maps: Embleton village and Christon Bank. Post-its or dots could go on those maps to answer each of the questions: What do you like/don't like/would change?

Red post-its – problem areas

Green post-its – opportunity areas

Yellow post-its – opportunity for change

(Post-its probably better because people can write on the post-it what the issue is)

You could have these for different topics: e.g. Housing, Green Space, Historic Environment, etc. to highlight issues in relation to all these topics.

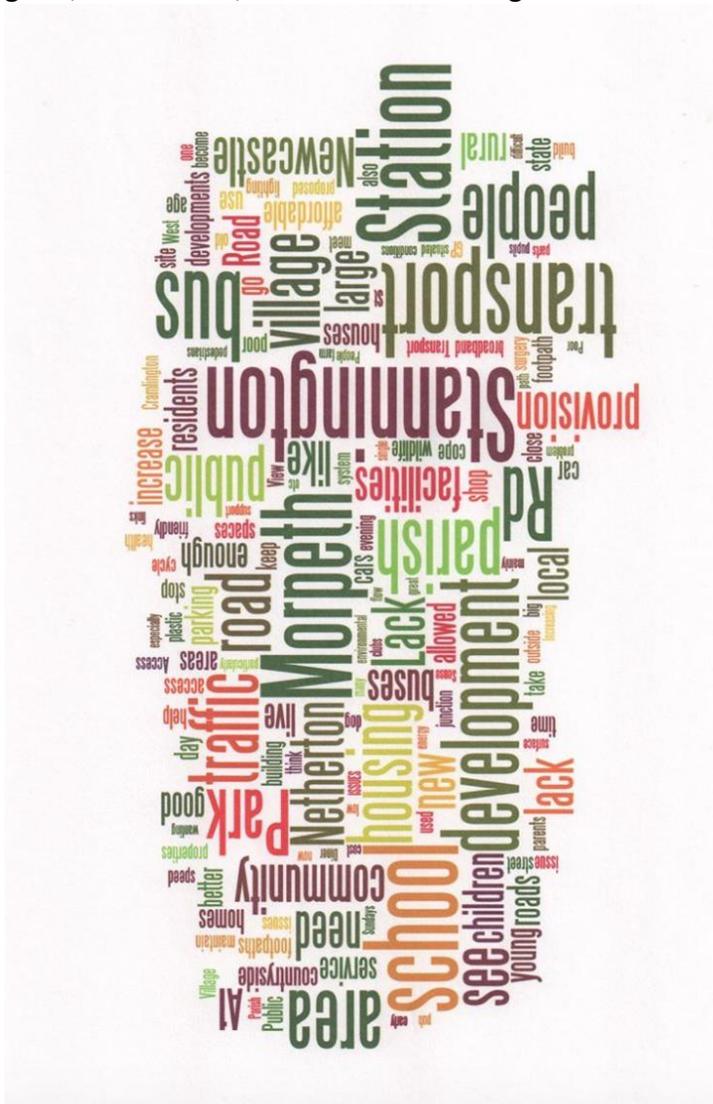

As suggested at the meeting – a Logo designed by school children could be an important part of the consultation exercise with younger people. (i.e. what do you like most about where you live – can you capture it in a picture/diagram?). A session with children at the school could be an important part of your consultation.

Examples of techniques employed elsewhere in early consultation:

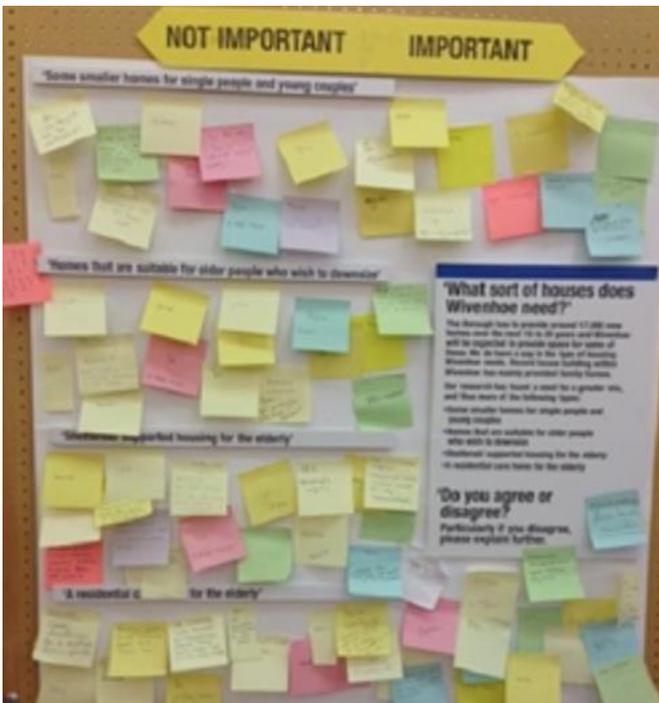

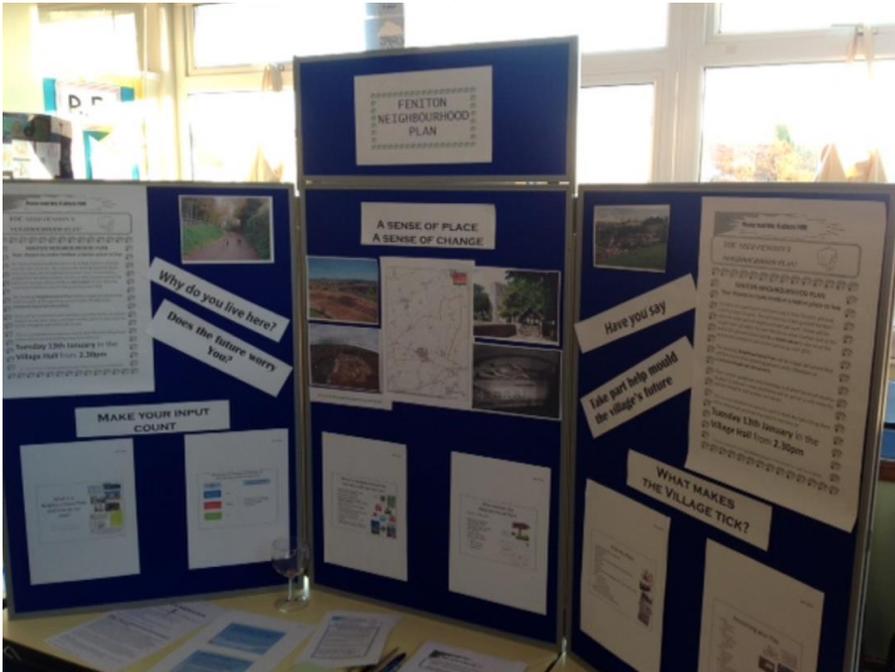

Old Market Quarter Neighbourhood Plan: A 'wishing tree' on a wall, with post-its on the branches:

'Word clouds' can be an effective way of creating a picture of issues in an area – a 'Word Cloud' for what is good, what is bad, what needs to change – ask for 3 key words for different topics?

Consultation Boards: Some examples...

So you could have a number of boards/posters:

Board 1: Map of Embleton Parish (sticky notes on map)

Board 2: Map (larger scale) of Embleton Village (sticky notes on map)

Board 3: Map (larger scale) of Christon Bank (sticky notes on map)

Board 4: Word Cloud – 3 key phrases to describe what you most like/value

Board 5: Word Cloud – 3 key phrases to describe what you least like

Board 6: Word Cloud – 3 key phrases to describe changes that would make the Parish a better place

Board 7: Other issues – Level of Importance? (See above)

Board 8: Summary of Embleton Neighbourhood Plan (FAQ's, Where we are now, What's next, etc. (see next page)

FAQs

Because of the change in legislation brought about by the Localism Act we as a community now have the opportunity to prepare a Neighbourhood Plan that shapes how our local area looks into the future.

How will the Plan be used?

The Embleton Neighbourhood Plan policies will be used by Planning officers to decide Planning applications. At the moment, it is the Berwick on Tweed Local Plan that is used to determine whether Planning applications should be approved or not. The Embleton Neighbourhood Plan will be a statutory part of the Development Plan.

What types of things can the Plan include?

The Plan can include anything that is related to the development and use of land. It can cover issues such as housing, employment and business, heritage and the historic environment, design in new development, protection of community facilities and important and valued green spaces, as well as the protection of our valued natural environment. It is a Development Plan so will cover:

- what type of development we wish to encourage and support,
- how much development should take place (subject to generally conforming with higher level strategic Plans and National Planning Policy,
- where that development should take place,
- what it should look like, and
- what we want to see protected

Other issues can be covered in the Plan but will not form part of the Statutory Plan. These can include issues such as public transport, litter, community activities, and other things that are not related to the development and use of land. These issues will be dealt with separately.

How long will the Plan last?

The Plan will be for 15 years, so will last until 2032. It can be reviewed during that time, if policies need amending, or new policies need adding.

Who produces the Plan?

The Plan is produced by the local community. That is why we need your views. The Parish Council is the Qualifying Body, and will lead the production of the Plan. They have delegated a Steering Group to oversee the production of the Plan.

How do I comment?

You can comment at any time, via the website at XXXX. You fill in the response form for this stage of consultation as well. We also have a Facebook page and a Twitter account (references...)

What happens next?

We will process the responses to this stage of consultation, and then decide on what your real vision is for our Parish. We will establish a number of objectives, and from these will follow specific Planning policies. Some of these may be about specific sites, and pieces of land, and some may be about what types of development will and won't be allowed. We will consult with you again at this stage.
